SAW, INC. ADDS NEW MEMBER TO BOARD OF DIRECTORS Stacey McKinley to help support the organization's fundraising efforts

Maple Heights, OH — SAW, Inc., which provides services for adults with developmental disabilities, has added another member to its board of directors. Stacey McKinley, active on several northeast Ohio boards, will employ her ample experience to enhance SAW, Inc.'s fundraising efforts.

"We are thrilled to have Stacey as part of our team," SAW, Inc.'s CEO Judy Carey said. "Her creativity, skills, experience, and connections will be helpful in us fulfilling our mission of helping adults with developmental disabilities reach further toward achieving their full potential."

McKinley is an attorney with experience advising nonprofits and currently a director at the Cleveland Clinic and an adjunct professor at Cleveland-Marshall College of Law. Additionally, she's worked with the Greater Cleveland Food Bank and Cleveland State University. She's served on several boards including Seeds of Literacy and Northern Ohio Planned Giving Council.

"I am looking forward to helping educate the community about SAW, Inc.'s great work to foster support for its efforts to improve the quality of life for adults with developmental disabilities in Northeast, Ohio," McKinley said.

SAW provides adult day services including vocational habilitation, vocational training, community-based group employment, and more at five adult activities centers around the greater Cleveland area including Rocky River, Maple Heights, Parma, Beachwood, and Euclid.
